

DREW LETCHWORTH

Drew Letchworth spent eleven years as a member of the infamous San Francisco comedy troupe, Fratelli Bologna who revolutionized the Bay Area's party and event community with their aggressive and ground breaking comic approaches to Corporate, Convention and Party Entertainment. Fratelli Bologna was also an award winning hot bed of comic theater. Drew co-authored and performed in five full-length comedy plays, most notably The Weber Family Christmas and The Bologna Medea; as well as numerous shorter routines. "He's a show unto himself, a resourceful man of a thousand funny faces, blessed with a naturally comic mug with a nutcracker profile and a fine lunatic flair." S.F. Chronicle
