

THE NEW MORTY SHOW

"An evening with The New Morty Show is a total sensory experience and complete entertainment package. They'll appease the critical ear, dazzle the eye, and tickle the funny bone. Name another current swing band with a duet of vocalists. Their repertoire is broad and varied enough to make every act different. And they've managed to do the unthinkable by developing a bridge between the gap of rock and swing, which puts them in a category all their own."

-Aaron Seymore, Swingtime magazine

"On stage, the nine members of The New Morty Show bop along, bouncing solos off one another like tennis balls as horns bleat, drums beat and the whole house swings."

- Neva Chonin, San Francisco Bay Guardian

The New Morty Show

When the outrageous New Morty Show hits the stage, the joint comes alive to the echoes of the all-night Vegas parties of the 1950s. The New Morty Show features Morty Okin (band leader/trumpet), the sexy vocals of the elegant San Francisco diva Cynthia Lewis and the debonair, wonderful vocals of Jeff Whipp, who together bring magic to the stage. The New Morty Show formed in 1994. This dynamic and ever-popular entertainment conspiracy features 10 top notch musicians who faithfully celebrate the style and substance of the Golden Era of Las Vegas (Louis Prima, Keely Smith, Sam Butera to name a few) while creating a modern sound that brings us into the new millennium. With both feet firmly planted in swingin' classics, The New Morty Show also delves into the bizarre with their take on songs from pop groups such as Metallica, Poison, The Ramones, The Sex Pistols, X, Billy Idol and more. This, along with their high-energy, original material, puts The New Morty Show in a class of its own by bridging the gap between rock, swing and jazz.
